DETAILED ACTION

1. This application has been examined. Claims 13-22 have been cancelled. Applicant's election of the claims of Group I (claims 1-12) without traverse is noted. Nonelected claims of Groups II and II (claims 13-22) have been cancelled. The election is deemed proper and therefore made final. An action on the merits of claims 1-12 is included in this Office action.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

3. Claims 1, 5-12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Mueller. Note the gas meter 20 and lock elements clearly shown in Figure 9. The poppet valve rotates to control the opening and closing of a plurality of ports (3). The “....carrying of the locking member by the lever arm results in an interference between the locking member...” 110 and the wing stop 104 which includes the coacting holes 108, 106 and the locking member. No patentable weight has been given to a “paint” or coating for the housing (claim 5). A weather seal 86 is shown. A U-shaped pipe 40 for the gas meter 20 is shown in Figure 1. Mating threaded elements are shown in Figure 2.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 148 USPQ 459, that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or unobviousness.

6. Claims 2-4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Mueller et al in view of Mueller. Mueller discloses the claimed invention except for the of rotational stops as shown in Figure 3 of Mueller. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify the flow control assembly of Mueller et al to include rotational stops, as taught by Mueller in order to prevent over rotation of the valve to respective open and closed positions.

Conclusion

7. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
